By CARLISLE BARGERON. The Kellogg peace pact got out of one trench yesterday, but it is unlikely that t will get out of the Senate before Christmas and there is no assurance, ither, that the naval cruiser measure will. By a vote of 14 to 2 the Senate foreign relations committee directed Senator Borah to report the treaty. Senators Reed of Missouri, and Bayard of Delaware, voted against it, while Senators Moses of New Hampshire, and McLean of Connecticut, simply voted present. Afterward, Senator Moses went off to revise his separate resolution which would give a Senate interpretation of the treaty and it is understood that the revision is to be reported out of the committee without recommendation.

Moses Plan in Doubt.

This is considered somewhat of a victory for Moses, as he will at least get Brief Bulletins Reveal That some kind of a measure to the floor Just what his revised resolution is to be remains to be seen.

It may be that it will be confined to upholding the Monroe Doctrine, and may be phrased more in the light of the League of Nation's attention to the present Bolivian-Paraguay dispute than as a direct reference to the Kellogg pact, in which event it might pick up considerable support. Senator Borah is expected to report the treaty to the Senate today, although he has no disposition to deny the re-

Birth of a fourth pair of twins in even years to Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. tobey, of 402 Green street, Anacostia, yesterday established a record believed to be unrivaled in the District of Columbia. PARIS HOLDS FAITH IN AMERICAS' PLAN

Paris, Dec. 18 (A.P.) .- That the Pan-American Conference at Washington may successfully mediate the Bolivian-Paraguayan dispute and that the League of Nations may not be further obliged to intervene was both the outlook and hope in Paris tenight.

League circles here based this expectation on Paraguay's acceptance of the Pan-American good offices and on the expectation that Bolivia will follow suit if indeed she has not already done so.

"The chairman of the International Conference of Conciliation and Arbitration has received the acceptance of Bolivia of the offer of good offices of the conference.

"As Paragusy has already accepted the offer of good offices, the matter is now in the hands of the conference."

With acceptances from both Paraguay and Bolivia the special committee formed to deal with the threatened war crisis between these two nations will meet this morning. Whatever suggestions this committee may a ke as a next move will be communicated to the full conference which is expected meet in plenary session and receive the committee's report.

Unless unforeseen complications should arise, the developments of today will pave the way for snuffing out the last sparks of threatened war configuration and opening the gate to a process of conciliation in which representatives of Bolivia and Paraguay may participate.

Envoys to Take Part.

M. Briand sought to learn exactly what was being done by the Pan-American Conference and by Argentina with a view to determining the practicability of coordinating their efforts with those of the league and of having all these mediating influences cooperate instead of losing time in separate efforts.

The actual note began to come over the telegraph whres before 5 o'clock. Acceptance by Bolivia and Paraguay of the good offices of the conference excludes the league from further activities in this American dispute. Accordingly, the league is expected to regard the dispute as now in safe hands and on the road to settlement.

The delicate question of whether the league can interfere in disputes on the American continent without running the risk of offending American sensibilities and perhaps raising the Monroe doctrine issue has now presumably become a moot question.

Grenoble, France. Dec. 13 (A.P.)

Jean Douboln, Lyons newspaper man who was stranded on the top of Nero's Helmet Peak since Sunday, was rescued late today. He was alive, but unconsclous from exhaustion and cold. The body of Mme, Yvonne Renoux, his only companion on the climb who perished Sunday night when they lost their way, was recovered.

The rescue of Douboin, who had spent 48 hours in the ice and snow was attended with the greatest difficulty. An Alpinist doctor named Couturier, with a rope tied around hisbody, was let down over a precipies thousands of feet deep and finally managed to reach the excursionist who was huddling in a crevice shaking with cold, alongside the frozen body of his girl companion. Douboin's hands were frozen but the doctors hoped that amputation would not be necessary. He recovered consciousness at the local hospital but was unable to give an account of his experience.

G. N. Olinger, 36 years old, manager of the A. & P. store at East Riverdale, Md., was struck over the head and robbed of $50 in cash and the keys to his store last night a moment after he alighted from a bus on the Annapolis pike, three miles from the District line, while en route to his home in Decatur Heights, Md.

He told the police that two white men, one with his face masked, held him up. The man with the covered face he said, struck him on the head with a blackfack.

Olinger was found later wandering along the road in a dazed condition. He was treated at Casualty Hospital for concussion of the brain and possible fracture to the skull. His condition was said to be critical.

Heroine of Confederacy, Who Defied Federal Chiefs, Died on Theatrical Tour.

Kilbourne, Wis., Dec. 18 (A.P.).—Belle Boyd, who in life dared everything for the South and then was buried in the alien North, is going home. The body of the Confederacy's most noted woman spr is to be taker from tiny Spring Grove Cemetery here and reburied in the soil of her native Virginia.

The courageous foe of the Union, who hoodwinked Federal officers and defied their superiors, even to cabinet officers, has been honored each memorial day by the Kilbourne G. A. R., old Federal soldiers having placed flowers on the famous spy's grave each year. She died here June 11, 1900, while on a tour with a theatrical company.

Arrangements are being made to exhume the body and send it to Virginia, where a more fitting monument than the one which stands above her grave there will be erected.

The race against death to the Alaskan seaport town of Nome started on January 27, 1925, from Nenāna. Some of Alaska's most famous dog drivers volunteered for the trip, which had to be made in the face of a blizzard that whipped the cold northland.

Leonard Sepella and Gunnar Kasson drove over the last two sections of the journey. Kasson, bleeding, half frozen and blinded by the stinging snows, staggered into Nome on February 4, bringing the precious antitoxin.

That was the trip that made Balto, Kasson's lead dog, famous. Balto kept the team going when the other fourteen huskies had been blinded and were ready to quit. Sepalla, Kasson and Balto became heroes.

"Mr. Fall's health at present is fairly good," Dr. Safford said, "and as long as he remains in a warm climate there is little danger. However, physicians who have attended him with me have said the and active heaves the state. time and again he can not take the risk of spending a severe winter in Washington. A trip to Washington in January would be very dangerous indeed."

Informed of the matter at his home here, Mr. Fall said: "It is news to me, and of course my physician is the one to decide." He said he was feeling "fairly good."

Court May Send Physician.

Decision to postpone hearing on a motion to schedule January 14 for trial of Albert B. Fall, on a charge of receiving a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny, Los Angeles oil magnate, was made yesterday by Justice William Hitz in the District Supreme Court in order to gain definite information of Fail's physical condition.

information of Fall's physical condition.

The action following presentation to Justice Hitz of a telegram from Mark B. Thompson, El Paso, Texas, attorney, stating that Fall's physicians believed he would be unable to go to the Capital for the trial in January on account of his ill health. The telegram was presented by William Leahy, member of Fall's counsel. It is regarded as probable that Justice Hitz will commission a local physician to go to Fall's home and examine him. The bribery charge against Fall grew The bribery charge against Fall grew out of granting the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil lease to one of Doheny's naval oil lease to one of Doheny's companies. The government contends that Fall accepted from Doheny's son $100,000 in a "little black bag" to influence execution of the lease to Doheny's company. Atlee Pomerene, special government oil counsel, and United States Attorney Leo A. Rover filed the motion for schedule of the trial next month.

First indication that the cafe owner had been kidnaped came Sunday when a youth known as the "Blue Punk." an alleged rum runner, told officers Burcham had been tied to the fence post and left in the watering trough because a string of trucks, bringing $500.000 worth of liquor across the border, had been stolen.

"The Blue Punk" was arrested for questioning in another case; became frightened and told of the abduction. Deputy Sheriff Wood immediately went to the spot where Purcham had been left, an empty water tank on the desert, several miles from town. There he found the fence rail to which Burcham had been bound, broken pieces of barbed wire, charred rope and bloody fishing line, the bonds which Burcham had succeeded in breaking. Wood organized a dozen posses to search for Burcham.

The deputy sheriff's horse, Tony, a wiry range horse, took him through the long ride, but was fading fast when Burcham was found During the 36 hours which Wood spent in the saddle he passed six isolated wa'er tanks and these were the only stops the deputy made and the only drinks that the horse had Shelled corn, carried in a flour sack on the saddle and served to Tony from the deputy's strength at these stops.

The north central part of Winkler County is a waste of sand which in places resembles the Sahara with rolling trregular dunes, piled up by the wind reaching a height of 18 or 20 feet at times. It was on the crest of one of these, outlined against the sky, that Wood caught his first sight of Burcham. The wanderer was zigzaging, falling frequently.

Wood dismounted, placed Burcham in the saddle and brought him into Wink. Burcham was suffering too badily from exposure to handle the horse and Wood was forced to lead Tony. This came during a speech of Chairman Wood, of the House appropriations subcommittee, in charge of the measure, when in defending the action of the conferees, he declared that the voters in the last election had registered their approval of the prohibition laws.

"I want to say to you that, on the other hand, had Al Smith been elected President of the United States, occupying the position he has ever occupied with reference to this prohibition law," he said, "there would have been ten times more violations, because every violator would have felt he had a license, by sesson of the attitude of the President of the United States, to go the whole length."

Representative Cramton (Republican), Michigan, inquired if the declaration that a man "voted for Al Smith in the recent election could be termed an opproblus epithet."

There was laughter, and Chairman. Wood proceeded to explain his contention that the $13,000,000 carried in the measure was all that could be used in a practical way and that waste would result from a bigger appropriation.

His contention was supported by Representative Byrns (Democrat). Tennessee, another of the conferees, who brought the challenge from Representative LaGuardia (Republican), New York, that sufficient money be provided to enforce the law.

"In refusing to vote the money for enforcing the law," LaGuardia declared, "the friends of prohibition admit its failure. They dare not enforce it."

HOUSE VOTES, 166 TO 122 TRIALS DUE IN JANUARY

White House yesterday one of the most

White House yesterday one of the most battle-worn legislative products of a decade, when the House put its stamp of approval on the measure popularly known as the Boulder Dam bill.

In less than two hours' time, given over to a final analysis of the measure by its proponents and a few parting shots by its old foes, the Senate amendments to the bill, passed last session by the House, were adopted and the long controversy ended, for the time being, at least.

The revised measure, calling for a $165,000,000 flood control, irrigation and power project on the Colorado River, was passed by a roli call vote of 166 to 122, but not until after its chief sponsor, Representative Swing (Republican), Calliornia, had been given the scare of his life by a standing vote showing the motion to agree to the amendments to have been beaten, 77 to 71.

Party Lines Give Way.

Party lines were thoroughly shattered on the final vote which saved the measure the ignominy of further torture in conference and sent it forthwith to President Coolidge for his approval or rejection.

The roll call showed exactly as many Republicans in favor of the revised bill as against Seventy-nine Republicans were joined by 85 Democrats, the lone Socialist member, Berger, of Wisconsin, and a Farmer-Labor member, Carss. of Minnesota, in favoring adoption, while 43 Democrats lined up with 79 Republicans in opposition. Coolidge to Sign, Belief.

Chairman Smith, of the irrigation committee, who moved the adoption of the amendments, together with Representative Swing, coauthor of the legislation, confierred with President Coolidge at the White House earlier in the day and said afterward they were hopeful the measure would be signed.

Swing described the conference as "very satisfactory" and expressed confidence that the bill would meet with the approval of the Executive.

As finally passed, the measure proposes construction at the Black Canyon site in the Colorado River of a huge dam to provide water for irrigation in the seven States in the river basin. A power plant also would be built at the dam to furnish electric power to scores of localities of the West.

Flood control works for the protection of Imperial Valley, in southern California, and an all-American canal to be built across this region for valley irrigation purposes also are proposed in the bill. Coolidge to Sign, Belief.

Judge William H. Kirkpatrick indicated that the ultimate decision in the case would establish a precedent fixing the status of the purchaser of liquor. After two hours of argument by defense and prosecution, Judge Kirkpatrick requested written briefs of argument on all the legal phases.

"This case involves much more far reaching questions than the guilt or innocence of this particular defendant," Judge Kirkpatrick said.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 18 (A.P.).—A challenge of the Government's right under the Volstead act, to arrest on a charge of conspiracy persons who buy liquor for their own use was made in the United States District Court today when Aifred Norris, New York broker formerly of Philadelphia, was arraigned on charges based on transactions with Joel D. Kerper, convicted bootlegger.

Norris, through counsel, entered a plea of noile contendre to the indictment, which charged him with conspiring with Kerper to transport liquor to him in New York. His counsel then attacked the validity of the indictment on the ground that the purchase of liquor is not an offense against the eighteenth amendment or the Volstead act. He said the buyer can not be punished by the prosecution "calling the purchase a conspiracy or something eise."

Judge William H. Kirkpatrick Individual of the Constant of the Voltage Constant of the Volta cated he would impose no further penalties.

Norris was involved with Kerper when Federal prohibition agents raided his apartment on Seventy-second street,
New York, last February.

The New York authorities had been notified by employes of a railroad that a case containing liquor had been roken. It was consigned to the Norris home. The agents repacked the liquor and ordered it sent to its destination, followed it, and saw a maid at the Norris home receive it.

That night the apartment was raided, the agents arriving in the course of a

Norris denied there was liquor on the premises, and later demanded the discharge of the agents of the Department

Early action on the nomination of Roy O. West, of Chicago, as Secretary of Interior, was predicted yesterday by Chairman Nye, of the lands committee after the committee at its first executive session failed to reach a vote. At the meeting, which lasted for more than an hour, senator Deneen, (Republican), Illinois, who is not a member of the committee, presented a plea for confirmation of the Secretary who was named last July by President Coolidge. Another meeting was called by Chairman Nye, who announced that a senator had indicated a desire to appear in connection with West's nomination. The senator was not named. At his hearings last week Mr. West was questioned about his holdings of utility stocks in companies of Samuel Insul. He said he had disposed of these. He also was asked about his consideration of protests against the renewal of the Sinclair contract for Sait Creek royalty oil, which was allowed by his predecessor. He said he referred the protests to the Department of Justice. more than an hour, Senator Deneen, morning at 10 o'clock with military honors. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

A native of Annapolis, Capt. Mullan was born in November, 1843. He graduated from the Naval Academy in the class of 1863. Among his conspicuous acts of service was the aid given to the Chilean military staff in the war between that country and Peru, for which the Chilean government awarded him a medal.

In the Samoan disaster he commanded a frigate when three American and three German war ships were foundered. He distinguished himself by putting far out to sea to escape the fury of the blow, thereby saving his ship, though suffering great hardships for this act of bravery. The Maryland Legislature in 1890 presented Capt. Mullan with a gold watch. He also was officially commended by the Government. He is survived by his wife, Mrs.

Smallpox Traps Wife With Former Husband

Lewiston, Idaho, Dec. 18 (AP)about, when there's nobody much to talk to except her divorced husband?

That question stirred Lewiston somewhat today, while John Hall, barred from his own home and the society of his wife, raged vainly at the city council which denied him entry, and compelled his wife to remain with her former husband. The reason for it all was thus: Ray Farrar came to the home of Mrs. Hall, from whom he had been divorced on cruelty grounds, on an amicable mission. He brought Christmas toys for his small daughter. was in Mrs. Hall's custody. While there, he became ill, and s smallpox quarantine was placed on

When John Hall returned to his home, they would not let him in. They wouldn't let his wife out. They wouldn't let Farrar, the cause of it all, out. The final blow came when, after Hall offered to be quarantined with his wife to keep her company, the city council rejected the offer and left him out.

NEGROES' HOUSING CONFERENCE TOPIC

R. C. Bruce, Former Capital School Aid, Is Speaker; High Rents Target.

MIGRATION CAUSES GIVEN

The national conference on interracial relations concluded its program of yesterday at the Interior Department Auditorium with an address by Roscoe C. Bruce, former assistant superintendent in charge of colored schools here, but now resident manager of the Dunbar Apartments in New York, and director of the Dunbar National Bank, both propositions sponsored by John D. Rockefeller, ir. He cited the Dunbar Apartments as a successful housing experiment for negroes in Northern communities, and said that what had been achieved in Harlem could be achieved in other cities where negro migration from the South had been heavy.

"Not one of our 511 apartments has been rented," he stated, "but since May if 100 per cent of them have been sold, and there is always a large waiting list."

T. J. Woofter, jr., of the University of North Carolina, stated that crowding of negroes in cities produced excessive rents and insanitary conditions. "Since negroes, for the most part, are restricted to certain districts in which they must live," he said, "the incoming migrant finds the housing situation already fixed by the landlord and speculative builder and must take what is offered. The limitation of the size of these districts causes population density, with attendant evils. The fundamental improvement in housing can not be brought about by the colored tenant as long as colored people are restricted to sections."

Lack of parks and playgrounds in the South was cited by Forrester B.

Harmon Foundation, and Mary Mc-Dowell, of the University Settlement of Chicago.

TRINITY SCHOOL CLOSES JUDGE DENOUNCES POLICE

Although 46 additional cases of influenza were reported in the District of Columbia yesterday, Dr. William C. Fowler, District health officer, deprecated reports that the situation here was alarming, and pointed out that deaths from influenza, bronchitis and pneumonia so far this year have been approximately in ratio to the death rate from the three diseases during the same month last year. No deaths were re-yesterday.

In comparing statistics for December,
1927, and December, 1928, Dr. Fowler pointed out that during the whole of the month last year there were 58 deaths attributable to influenza, bronchitis and pneumonia, while from December 1, this year, through Sunday, there had been only 38 deaths from these causes.

School Takes Recess.

Despite Dr. Fowler's statements that there is no influenza, Washington is taking every precaution against the disease. Precautionary measures disclosed yesterday included closing of the Holy Trinity School and issuance of detailed instructions on prevention to employes of the Office of Public Buildings and Grounds.

Grounds.

Officials of the Holy Trinity School admitted last night that the school was closed as a precaution, but declared emphatically that there was no influenza epidemic at the institution. "Monday was a wet day and rather than have the children get wet, contract colds and possibly influenza, school was closed until after the New Year," they Precautions Suggested.

Maj. S. M. In Washington's immediate vicinity, influenza seemed to be on the increase, according to reports. Annapolis, Md., reported 100 cases, with no deaths; Lynchburg College and Randolph-Macon Woman's College at Lynchburg, closed ahead of scheduled holiday time, while colleges at Richmond and Danville also closed earlier than anticipated.

Lynchburg, Va., Dec. 18 (A.P.)—Lynchburg College and Randolph-Macon Woman's College closed for the Christmas holidays today, a few days prior to the regular closing time. Taking Over Colonial Port, Mussolini Holds Seven of Thirteen Portfolios.

SEES AID IN NEW UNITY

Rome, Dec. 18 (A.P.).—Benito Mussolini today took over the ministry of colonies, thus assuming seven of the 13 portfolios in the government and constituting himself a majority of the cabinet. He now holds the most important departments in his own hands, having besides colonies, the departments of foreign affairs, war, marine, aviation, interior and corporations.

The posts held by other individuals are the ministries of public works, justice, finance, national economy, communications and public education.

In official quarters it was said that experience showed that concentration of the various branches of public administration under one person was highly advantageous. It insured uniformity of direction and the avoidance of disagreements which might reach actual conflict when ministries are headed by different persons.

It was stadd further that Mussolini had found it especially useful to be at the head of all departments having to do with national defense. He had thus been able to make the army, navy and aviation groups a single unit.

PEACE IN SIGHT.

The government of Bolivia is to be congratulated upon its achievement in maintaining peace in spite of the countrywide demand for war against Paraguay. Bolivia's acceptance of the Pan-American conference tender of good offices paves the way for an amicable adjustment of the boundary dispute. The order to the Bolivian commander at the front to cease attacks upon Paraguayan troops will doubtless be followed by similar action on the part of Paraguay. The good faith of the two governments is now committed to conciliation and accommodation, either through diplomatic negotiation or arbitration. It would have a good effect if the Paraguayan government should now cancel its mobilization orders.

The Pan-American conference is competent to devise means of settling this dispute. The two principals can present their respective claims to this friendly and impartial body, or they can negotiate by themselves, in the calm atmosphere of Washington, with every assurance that the neighboring governments of this hemisphere stand ready to aid them in finding a solution of their problem. Chile and Peru have lately furnished an example of statesmanship in resuming diplomatic relations and endeavoring to work out an adjustment of the Tacna-Arica question, which is fully as difficult as the Bolivian-Paraguayan boundary dispute. The restoration of diplomatic relations between Bolivia and Paraguay would be welcomed by all the governments of the Americas as a harbinger of a friendly settlement. Present indications tend to confirm the confidence of Pan-American governments in the ultimate success of their efforts to make war obsolete. The success of the conference in inducing Bolivia and Paraguay to accept their good offices now becomes an object lesson showing that friendly cooperation among the American republics is not a mere pious aspiration, but a living reality that helps to shackle war. The resolution tendering the good offices of the conference, drawn up by Ambassador Ferrara, of Cuba, is now demonstrated to have been a most sagacious instrument, which, while carefully avoiding an attitude that might have wounded the susceptibilities of two governments and peoples smarting under a sense of injury, nevertheless impressed upon them with irresistible force the expediency of retaining the good will of the American nations. By adopting this resolution and by expressing full expectation of a favorable response the Pan-American conference is entitled to a large share of the credit for preventing the threatened war.

The arrangement now going into effect removes from speculation the question of a possible clash between the League of Nations and Western nations in dealing with a dispute in this hemisphere. The apprehension that the council of the league might run afoul of the Monroe Doctrine in handling the Bolivian-Paraguayan question was unfounded in any event. The covenant of the league declares that nothing in its provisions shall be deemed to affect the validity of the Monroe Doctrine. The United States Government has not given any intimation that the dispute came within the parview of the Monroe Doctrine in any respect. If war had followed and had brought complications in its train adversely affecting the United States, the interposition of this Government in applying the Monroe Doctrine would necessarily have precluded any interposition by the council of the League of Nations, under the terms of the covenant. The United States, however, does not concern itself with the covenant in determining roe Docrine is involved in any American question.

HOOVER HOMEWARD BOUND.

President-elect Hoover is now homeward bound, though still a great distance from the United States. He has skirted the west coast of Central and South America, crossed the Andes from Chile to Argentina, paid a brief visit to Montevideo, the Uruguayan capital, and is now bound for Rio de Janeiro.

It appears that the culmination of Mr. Hoover's trip came with his enthusiastic reception at Buenos Aires. He is now a long distance from the Argentine capital, but the full significance of his visit there is just becoming apparent. Whatever opinion the people of Argentina have of the United States, it is certain that they have acquired admiration of the next Chief Executive. Even the newspapers which have been most critical of this country join in acclaiming Mr. Hoover. Argentina seems to have gained a new conception of this country, its purposes and ideals through the sincere expressions of friendship made during the tour.

In an interview just published by La Nacion. leading paper of Buenos Aires, President-elect Hoover disclaims any intention on the part of the United States to intervene in the affairs of other American republics. He has made plain that there is no policy of "imperialism" behind the wishes of this Government for the well-being of all the nations of the western continents. Apparently Argentina has accepted this sincere declaration.

Mr. Hoover emphatically disapproved of any political doctrines which tend to place this country in the role of big brother. All of the American republics are of the same age, he said, "and the only difference between them is the different historic moment in their economic progress. The fear of some persons concerning supposed intervention ideas of the United States are unfounded," he continued. 'The facts are gradually demonstrating more clearly and more fully that in my country there prevails no policy of intervention, despite any appearances of such intention."

The one element of discord in inter-American relations has been the belief in some of the other Southern nations that this country wished to dominate the two continents. The facts are that the smaller republics have benefited much more than this country from any help that the United States has given. The United States has been interested in assisting certain countries to stabilize their governments and maintain their independence. It has never sought to dominate them. Mr. Hoover, in making these facts clear, is performing a service of peace and good will.

NEW YORK'S NEW POLICE HEAD. Grover Whalen should make an excellent police commissioner of New York City. He has demonstrated a genius for organization and administration. His career as commanding officer of New York's 17,000 finest will be watched with keen interest Crime breeds prolifically in large cities. New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and smaller cities afford special facilities to criminals, both in hiding and in inventing new criminal methods. From these centers criminals are graduated and made ready to operate in other parts of the country. The police departments of large cities have an important responsibility to the entire Nation. Unless they are efficient and ever vigilant there can be no hope of coping with the crime problem.

The New York police department has no been functioning efficiently. The failure to solve the Rothstein murder mystery brought matters to a head. Commissioner Whalen's attack upon these unsolved mysteries will be followed throughout the country.

The new commissioner leaves a position in which his salary is said to run above $100,000 annually, to accept a municipal post paying $10,000 a year. The example thus set deserves wide emulation. There can be no more worthy work than public service, and today's willing to enter upon careers of public service despite the sacrifice they so frequently entail. Mr. Whalen, and his employers who arranged a leave of absence so that he could accept the commissionership, are to be heartily commended.

ANTONIO CRUZ.

Not only is honesty, as the copybooks might have said, its own reward, but sometimes an honest act brings material reward. Take, for example, the case of Antonio Cruz, of Silver City, N. Mex. Antonio was a bootlegger, and so successfully had he hidden his still that the sheriff keen and eagle-eved as he was, never had been able to find it. So he asked Antonio if he would mind bringing the apparatus in to his office, and Antonio, being an nonest man, complied with the request.

Knowledge that he had performed a gracious act probably was all the reward that Antonio expected. He had helped the sheriff out of a jam, and he had acceded gracefully to a request that bade fair to get him into trouble and that deprived him of his means of livelihood. Surely the keeper of the Great Book marked down such a performance, and Antonio could have expected no greater reward than that. But the district court before which he was haled took formal notice of his voluntary assistance to the sheriff and granted him his discharge. Thus did the honest bootlegger receive material reward.

It is a pleasure to record such an unusual ease. Antonio Cruz is a good citizen and, as a bootlegger, no police department in the country would hesitate to bid him welcome to its Antonio is a cooperationist. He would not run his still if he thought any one objected to it. One part of the story remains to be cleared up: What does the sheriff of Silver City propose to do with the liquor-making equipment that Antonio Cruz so kindly turned over to him?

TESTING SUBMARINE DEVICES.

On December 17, 1927, the submarine Swas rammed and sunk by the destroyer Paulding. Last Monday, one year later to the day, the reconditioned S-4 was sunk by the Navy for the purpose of experimenting with and testing new submarine rescue devices. The first of these consist of lifting hooks, or "padeyes," designed and installed upon the S-4 for the purpose of making it easier for rescue crews to attach lifting pontoons. Later, after the "padeye" tests have been completed, the unquestionably could be built.

when, how, and to what extent the Mon- | S-4 will be utilized for testing the newly designed escape chamber, the underwater lung and other devices.

The submarine has come to be a fundamentally important weapon of offense and deense, and it would never be possible to reach general agreement that its use be discontinued. The hazards of submarine operation, however, were apparent, and public demand was made that the Navy Department take steps toward solving the problem of submarine safety. This is the plan that has been adopted, and the present tests with the reconditioned S-4 are the first tangible efforts along that line.

Much of value will be learned in these tests Only a few of the safety measures and devices suggested since the sinking of the S-4 are practicable. By testing each under simulated disaster conditions it will be discovered which are to be depended upon in an emergency Measures and devices found practicable in the present series of tests may break down under actual emergency use, but so exhaustive are the tests that real progress in the safe operation of submarines is to be expected.

PROBLEM OF THE INDIANS.

The Government is again wrestling with the problem of supervision of the Indians. While the House is analyzing the appropriation for the Indian Bureau, the Senate subcommittee investigating the Indian service is taking testimony, and President Coolidge is confronted with a plea of the Indian Rights Association to use his influence for a 100 per cent increase in the Indian Bureau's budget.

With repeated charges that the personnel of the Indian service is inadequate and lamentably inefficient, and with a number of surveys finding that the Indians are neglected and mistreated, the question of the Government's supervision of the reservations is a serious one. The recent survey by the Institute for Government Research found immediate need for increased funds to combat disease, save life and raise the standard of the Indian service personnel. Turnover of employes was found to be as high as 67 per cent per year. Hospitals were reported to be without medical facilities, and schools overcrowded and unsanitary. Testimony before the Senate committee recently was to the effect that Indian children who contract tuberculosis while at nonreservation boarding schools in the West and Southwest are sent home to die.

In the annual report of Mr. West, Secretary of the Interior, he stated that on many of the reservations much of the best agricultural land has already been sold or patented. He asked the Government to give relief to Indians whose land has been lost through their lack of business efficiency and through taxation. During the past year more than 150,000 acres of Indian lands have been sold. The Indians appear to be losing their means of support, and education among them is far from sufficient to fit them into the general economic life of the country.

The entire situation has come to a point where the public wonders what the Government is trying to do with the Indian. Millions have been spent and other millions are spent each year for the supervision of 300,000 Indians who should be capable of sustaining themselves. Innumerable surveys and investigations have been made. But no remedy has gone to the heart of the problem.

Mr. West's report recommended legislation that will apply the laws of civilization to Indians on reservations, and stressed the need for a definite policy of the Government on Indian affairs. President Coolidge in his message to Congress looked forward to the time when Federal supervision may be properly and safely terminated," and said that "a complete participation by the Indian in our economic life is the end to be desired." All the evidence indicates that little, if any, progress toward that end is being realized.

At the present time a Senate committee is conducting an extensive investigation into Indian affairs. It remains to be seen whether it will give a comprehensive analysis of the difficult problem, or whether it will submit just another report finding isolated abuses which ought to be remedied. A superficial survey will be of no value. The whole question of the relation of the Government to the Indian should be scrutinized by this committee and the findings should be translated into action. The Government should not throw good money after bad in an effort to patch up the abuses. The facts in the case should be brought out and studied, and a definite policy should be decided upon so as to bring the Indians to a state of economic independence.

POISONS AND ANTIDOTES.

With a newly invented poison gas "so deadly that the rulers and military leaders of the world would hesitate to start using it because of its terrible effects," and a newly invented metal twice as strong as steel and weighing only about one-half as much as aluminum, of which "one might build a 400-horsepower airplane motor so light that a man could pick it up and walk away with it," Dr. Hilton Ira Jones painted a gloomy picture of future war fare before the Executives Club of Chicago the other day. Airplanes built of the new metal could fly great distances carrying huge loads of the new gas. Upon a declaration of war, there would be precipitated an aerial race by the disputing powers to see which could first gas the other into obliteration. War would be over before it had fairly begun. But the history of armaments has recorded constant shuffling of new equipment for offense against new equipment for defense. When the musket supplanted the spear the army equipped with firearms had a great advantage until its opponent also obtained firearms or worked out new fortifications and stronger armor. When armored ships first were sent out against wooden vessels the result never was in doubt, but the armored ship soon appeared as a defensive element. The invented poison gas may indeed be terrible, but it seems reasonable to suppose that before it can be brought into operation a means of defense against it will have been devised.

The newly invented metal, however, stronger than steel and lighter than aluminum, sounds interesting. If it fulfills promises, it will revolutionize certain industries As a material of war it would prove highly valuable; as a material of peace it will prove invaluable. Scientists would do well to spend no more time on the new poison gas, concentrating their attention upon this new metalso hard it can cut glass and as light, almost, as a cork-of which a truly amazing airplane

MANY HEAR MUSIC OF LATIN AMERICA

Delegates Delighted by United States Band's Program at Union Building.

CONCERT IS BROADCAST

A stellar performance of Latin American music was given at the Pan-American Union Building last hight before an audience which included delegates to the International Conference of American States on Conciliation and Arbitration. The artists were Sofia del Campo, Chilean soprano, Dyla Josetti, Brazilian pianist and Ennio Bolognini, the noted Argentine cellist.

The concert was broadcast over NAA and the Columbia broadcasting system in short waves so it could be heard in Pan-American countries.

The orchestral selections were prein Pan-American countries.

The orchestral selections were presented by the United Service Orchestra, Capt. William J. Stanard, leader of the United States Army Band and Lieut. Charles Benter, leader of the United States Navy Band alternating as conductors. One of the numbers played by the orchestra which evoked great enthusiasm was an "Indigenous Mayan Minuet." by Castillo of Guatemala, which had its initial rendition in the United States last night. Unique among the orchestral numbers were the suites "Babylon," by Justin Elle of Haiti, with the whispers of tropical scenes in its measures and a quaint "Yaqui Dance," by Alberto Alvarado of Mexico, while "A Central America Fiesta," by M. de Adalid y Gamero of Honduras, abounded in tone color and memorable melodies as did the tone poem "Promethee," by Leopoldo Meguez of Brazil.

In the program strict neutrality between Bolivia and Paraguay was observed as none of the works of composers of either country was included. Diplomatic representatives of both Bolivia and Paraguay as well as their delegates to the conference were present in the audience.

Sofia del Campo, the Chilean prima flonna soprano who is with the Philatelphia Grand Opera Company this eason, revealed a voice of great beauty and range. Her portion of the program included songs by noted Peruvian, Chilean, Uruguayan and Brazillan composers.

ian. Chilean, Uruguayan and Brazilan composers.

That Brazil possesses a poet of the lano in Dyla Josetti was proven last light in her inspired rendition of solo lumbers written by Lecuona, of Cuba; lottschalk, of the United States, and everal Brazilian composers.

Senor Bolognini, in his cello playng, was a treat for music lovers presnt. He is complete master of his intrument, from which he coaxed last light a treasure store of beautiful seections, two of which, the "American antasia" and the "Remembrance of trigentina," were of his own compolition.

Will Refuse to Admit Suits for Divorce if Reports

m, the home of the other was ordered by County Judge D. E. Cook today.

The case involved William Brown, Edwin Heidelberger and their wives. Mrs. Brown was found recently as the housekeeper in the home of Edwin Heidelberger, where she had taken her children, and Mrs. Heidelberger and her children occupied the same status in the Brown home. Brown and Heidelberger are farmers.

Judge Cook, before whom divorce suits of both couples are pending, ordered a special investigation. He said he would refuse to admit the cases to trial if it was found to be a case of wife swapping." Attorneys for the

THEY'LL ATTEND POST PARTY AT FOX THEATER

Group of youngsters emerging from the Park Lane Pharmacy, Pennsylvania avenue and Twenty-first street, after receiving their tickets for The Washington Post's Santa Claus party to be held at the Fox Theater, Monday morning, December 24, at 9:45 o'clock

Tickets to Post-Fox Party Disappear in Early Rushes by The Washington Post expedition on its trip to the North Pole to find Santa will be shown as the feature of the party, while the Fox Theater management has contributed a comedy, cartoon and other special stunts to make up a program which will please every one.

By the time this story reaches the eyes of those for whom it is intended, it is doubtful whether a ticket to The Washington Post-Fox Theater Santa Claus party will be available for love or money.

Tickets for this party, all of them free, were placed in various sections of the city yesterday morning for distribution.

Locards suprogram which will please every one.

No children will be admitted to the Fox Theater Monday morning unless they have tickets. There may be a few admission cards available at some of the 25 places which were listed as distributing points, and if there are any returns from these places. The Washington Post will have the tickets the last few days of the week.

Tickets for this party, all of them free, were placed in various sections of the city yesterday morning for distribution to the children. Did they take up the supply? The answer is that they did.

They charged into the newsstands drug stores and other business places which had agreed to help The Washington Post distribute the tickets They were in line when the stores opened and they remained until the last ticket in the places had been givenout.

London. Dec. 18 (A.P.)—Princess Clars De Wildenberg Hatzfeldt died today. She was the former Clars M. Campbell, adopted daughter of Collis P. Huntington, of New York.

The princess was the wildow of a Prussian noble and had been living in England since the war. She had been a society leader for many years and was considered one of the best dressed women in Europe. She was noted for her lavish entertainment at her country estate near Windsor. The princess contracted bronchitis a week ago and was threatened with pneumonia.

Only $1,800,000 Given Osages for Yuletide

Pawhuska, Okla., Dec. 18 (A.P.).—
Osage Indians will have to be satisfied this Christmas with $1,800,000, the smallest sum they have received since the finding of oil in large quantities on theid lands.

The amount was distributed to 2.-220 members of the tribe today in the regular quarterly disbursement by the Osage agency here. Unrestricted Osages, who have certificates of competency, received $800 a headright, and the restricted Indians $1,000 a headright, the extra $200 coming from their reserve funds.

DACKARD pioneered the straight-eight motor car in America. That fact is well known.

Now, like the vast majority of all multi-cylinder car manufacturers the world over, Packard has standardized the eight-in-line power plant. Every current Packard model is now a Packard Eight. That, too, is well known.

But what is not generally appreciated is that Packard builds three complete lines of Packard Eight cars-the Standard Eight, the Custom Eight and the De Luxe Eight.

The Packard cars in each line are fundamentally alike in engineering design, in quality of materials and craftsmanship, in the characteristic beauty of their body lines. Packard has but one standard. The models in the three lines differ in size, in detailed refinements of body embellishment and in the degree of individuality available to the purchaser in color, upholstery and body styles. Today there is a Packard Eight suited to the requirements of every man or woman who seeks more than mere transportation in a motor car.

The Packard Standard Eight

The new Packard Standard Eight is a powerful, fast and luxurious car, built on two popular acceleration and smoothness so long associated with the Packard Eight is refined and enhanced in this new car. Every new feature including the unique Packard Shock Absorbing System is found on the Standard models.

The Packard Custom Eight

The improved Packard Custom Eight is offered in but one wheelbase-140 inches. Packard Custom models are more powerful, more smoothly flexible than ever before. The famous Packard straight-eight motor, with its nine bearing cranskhaft, has been developed and improved to a new standard of performance. A wide range of choice in colors and upholstery is available in this fine and luxurious car.

Night With Air Mail on Air Tonight

Dramatization Includes Lindbergh's Reception in Mexico-Army Band in Two Concerts - Woman Novelist to Speak.

Station WMAL will broadcast six features from New York city this evening, beginning with one new to radio listeners, "A Night With the Air Mail." The dramatization of the transportation to Chicago by night air mail of the films of Lindbergh's reception in Mexico City, will be the subject of this broadcast. It is a known fact that the films in question were not ready when scheduled and that the air pilots were scheduled and that the air pilots were compelled to make up the two hours' delay in order to get them to Chicago on time. How they succeeded will af-ford a thrilling half hour.

The Columbians will present another of their symbolic jazz hours at 8:30 o'clock tonight. The complete program is as follows: "Jazz Patrol," "In My Bouquet of Memories," "By the Waters of Minnetonka, 'Chiquita," "Free Air," and "The Spell of the Blues." Olive Kilne will sing two solos during the La Palina Smoker "Mary Ann" and "Love, Here Is My Heart." The orchestra and a male quartet will make up the rest of the program.

Sophie Kerr, prominent woman short story writer and novelist, will be heard at 8 o'clock tonight. Miss Kerr will face the microphone for a short talk to radio listeners.

Olive Palmer, coloratura soprano, will have three solos, while Paul Oliver will sing two solos as well as a duet with Miss Palmer during the Palmolive hour at 9:30 o'clock tonight. Olive Palmer, will also sing a duet with Elizabeth Lennox, contraito, and the Palmolive Revelers will have three typical numbers.

Kreutzer's overture, "Night in Gran-Kreutzer's overture, "Night in Granada," will be heard as the opening number of the hour of Slumber music at 11 o'clock. Other numbers will include "Valse Espagna," Waldteufel; "A Vineyard Idylie," Didler; selection from
"The Dollar Princess," Fali; Chanson
Joyeuse," Drdla; "Extase," Ganne; "Verloren," Goldmark, and dlum," Chopin.

Capt. William J. Stannard will lead the United States Army Band in an hour's concert from the War College at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The Wardman Park Dance Orchestra will be featured from Station WOL be-tween 10 o'clock and midnight. The regular dinner concert will be broad-cast at 6 o'clock, followed by a half-hour program of music.

Newark Radio Station Asks New Wave Length

Station WNJ. of Newark, N. J., has applied to the Radio Commission to be allowed to change its frequency to 950 kilocycles, which is the frequency station WRC in Washington is operating on. Station WNJ at the same time specified several other frequencies, in preference to 1,450 kilocycles.

In its present position the station, which is owned by the Radio Investment Co. of Newark, is dividing time on that wave with WBMS, Union City, N. J.; WIBS, Elizabeth, N. J., and WKBO, Jersey City, Frank J. Hogan is counsel for the New Jersey station. The Radio Commission has not yet set counsel for the New Jersey station.

The Radio Commission has not yet set a date for the hearing.

hardly noticed that his hands were cold, for his heart was singing.

The drifting snow outside the window had given him the idea. He would venture forth and see whether some people wanted to have their sidewalks cleared. Picking up the family snow shovel, he walked to the house of a neighbor and rang the bell.

"Would you like to have me shovel the snow from your sidewalk?" he asked the woman who answered.

"Thank you," she replied, "but Mr. Brown will take care of it when he comes home for lunch."

Jerry then went to another house, an. here his fortune was better. The housewife was glad to have the walk cleared as soon as possible. He finished the work in 15 minutes and was rewarded with two dimes.

Bridge Play By Experts Explained

Noted Ohio Men Compete Against Whitehead and Work in Sixth Game of Winter Series Conducted Over Radio.

Two of Ohio's noted Bridge players, Eugene R. Buss and C. J. McDiarmid. of Cincinnati, were the opponents of Mr. Work and Mr. Whitehead in the sixth of this season's Radio Bridge Games, broadcast yesterday afternoon

Mr. Whitehead began the auction with one Club, which Mr. Buss, West, doubled informatively, thus inviting a Major bid from his partner on four or more cards of a Major suit, in preference to a stronger four or five-card Minor. This seemed the best way to find out which of the Major suits, both of them strong in Mr. Buss' own hand, suited his partner better.

Suited his partner better.

To prevent, if possible, a response to this double from East, Mr. Work, North, at once bid four Clubs, giving in one jump bid the full three-assist strength of his hand. His bid accomplished its purpose, as Mr. McDlarmid, East, passed. He selt that his hand was too weak for a four-Heart bid, although he would have declared three Hearts had Mr. Work had passed.

Mr. Whitehead, South, passed on the second round, and Mr. Buss, West, bid four Hearts. Though inclined to double, Mr. Buss believed that with normal help from his partner he could go game in Hearts, and he preferred game to the small penalty he might make by doubling and defeating the four Club bid.

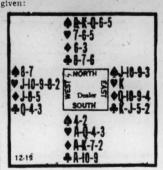

Mr. Work, North, and Mr. McDlarmid, East, both passed, and Mr. Work head passed.

By FRANCES M'DONALD=

Whitehead bid five Clubs. His partner's jump assist guaranteed great help for the Club bid, and as he himself counted six tricks in his own hand, he did not consider the five clubs are overbid.

Mr. Buss doubled the five Clubs for business, and all passed, glying Mr. Buss did not consider the five clubs are of Clubs, and Mr. McDiarmid the Acc of Clubs, and Mr. McDiarmid the Acc of Clubs, and Mr. McDiarmid played the 10.

Just want to offer congratulations to the poor sap who didn't get the raise. That's the best raise he ever didn't get. Just one thing. Don't let this woman kid herself that she ever knew what love was. All she will ever love is the bank roll, and she will always have one. She is the type that pays her rent, and grafts everything else. Well, it's pretty tough on the fellow if he cares, but it's lots better to know now than later that he doesn't mean any more in her life than a thin dime. The longer I live the less I think of marriage. It's one thing a man can't win at. "MICHAEL."

Cardinals Held Without Field Goal in First Half.

Three C. U. Regulars Are Forced Out of Game on Fouls.

By GARRETT WATERS.

to-16 victory over the Cathonic University Five.

Inability to hit the rims accurately explains the Cardinals' second defeat in as many starts this season. Even with Johnny Blumette in the line-up, the Cardinals were unable to come through with a victory. Coach Rice started a slightly different line-up than that which appeared against University of Baltimore last week, with no improvement evident.

Baltimore last week, with no improvement evident.

The Cardinals could not cage baskets with any degree of consistency during the fray, although many chances presented themselves. Like last Saturday's game, C. U. found itself behind shortly after the first few minutes of play and trailed thereafter.

Not even a single basket did they register in the first half, gathering three points through the foul toss route to trail, 11 to 3, at the whistle. William and Mary, on the other hand, found the rims much to their liking and drew away, led by Silverman, flashy forward.

Fouls, by the way, marked the ntire battle, with Referee Eberts being extremely strict in calling them. The Cardinals made the most of their points by this way, even in the second half, although they did come though with four baskets. Four players were forced out of action on fouls. Three were Cardinals.

These same fouls started the scoring with McCabe making good one after the first few minutes, followed by three by Silverman. Light registered the first basket of the evening by sinking one for William and Mary, while Silverman and Winn shot a couple more intermixed with some free tosses to bring the 11 to 3 figures at the half Martin and Amann made good free tosses to add to McCabe's to give the Cardinals their 3 points at this time.

Sharkey Would Fight Dempsey With Winner Taking All the Purse

B OSTON, Mass., Dec. 18 (United Press).—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, tonight sent a heavyweight, tonight sent a telegram to Tex Rickard, challenging Jack Dempsey to meet him on a winner-take-all basis.

Sharkey said he, was ready to take on "Stribling, Paulino and Dempsey one after another in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia or Boston rings."

The telegram read in part:

The telegram read in part: "You say Dempsey is your ace in the hole and that he is going to fight again. Get him to sign on the dotted line and I shall agree to meet him, winner take all.

"Dempsey can not lick me. Foul blows saved him last time, and made your $3,000,000 gate in Chi-cago possible.
"When Knute Hansen, whom When Knute Hansen, whom you brought from Europe and agreed to manage, was knocked out, you assumed the management of Young Stribling, who was all but chased out of a New York ring by Berlenbach. I understand you also have a controlling interest in Paulino, while everybody knows you manage Dempsey."

De Vos Resumes Work

The commission approved a bout between Johnny Dundee, former feather weight champion, and Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, former bantamweight titleholder, for January 1.

Joe Dundee, Baltimore, welterweight champion, did not appear before the commission as, expected to recieve a physical examination preparatory to seeking a title match in New York State. It was said that Dundee failed to appear because his manager, Max Waxman, was ill in Newark, N. J.

Tilden Meets With Tennis Leaders

Star Is Silent on Outcome of Conference With Solons.

Cheerfulness Is Taken to Mean He'll Be Reinstated.

N EW YORK, Dec. 18 (A.P.).—Big Bill Tilden was in town today and went into a huddle with representatives of the United States Law Tennis Association for the first time since he was barred from amateur courts by that body early in the morning of August 25.

The huddle took place quietly in the offices of the U. S. L. T. A. and lasted for an hour. It was generally peaceful, but Tilden did his share of the talking. As to exactly what took place and what understanding was reached, both Tilden and the tennis solons were silent.

In Tilden's cheerfully frank re-fusal to give out information and the fact that he referred ques-tioners to the United States Lawn Tennis Association, was seen a somewhat conciliatory spirit as the former champion has seldom pre-viously taken pains to hold his peace concerning his relations with the association.

Elevens in Grudge Game

Southwest Washington will have its own postseason football game Sunday when the Southern A. C. and the Mercury Preps both elevens from that section, will settle an argument regarding the relative football ability of the teams which has raged since the season started. The game will be played at Union Park, starting at 2:30 o'clock. The clubs agreed to the game last night and will meet later on this week to decide on officials.

There is little opportunity to judge the elevens by comparative scores. The Southerns operated in the unlimited class, while the Mercurys played in the 150-pound division of the Capital Basket ball at American University

Nationals'Ace Rated Most Effective

2.52 Earned Runs Per Game Beats Pennock for Honor.

Nats Lead All Clubs in Fielding; Myer Outranks Reeves.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

GARLAND BRAXTON, the Washington Club's champion relief filinger of the American League in 1927, was the most effective pitcher in the junior circuit last season, offcial averages, released this morning, disclosed. The slim little southpaw, though too frail to be rated as a regular starter the last season until finally used from force of necessity, allowed an average of only 2.52 earned runs per game and won over Herb Pennock, veteran Yankee left-hander, for leadership in this respect. Pennock's average is 2.56.

Cobb Now Seeks Title As Greatest U. S. Fan;

Offers to Aid Browns

TYRUS RAYMOND COBB is so constituted temperamentally that he always wants to lead the pack in anything he undertakes. As an all-around piayer, it is generally conceded that he gratified his ambition on the diamond and, according to Manager Dan Howley, of the St. Louis Browns, the "Georgia Peach" now has in mind becoming the Nation's greatest fan.

"And Ty is taking this ambition seriously, too," said Howley in a gabfest at last week's major league meetings at Chicago. "Cobb has been actively in the game so long that he finds it difficult to break away from it and he plans to do so gradually. As a substitute for the usual training trip, he has offered to report at our West Palm Beach camp next spring as volunteer coach in the hope that he can give my young men some valuable batting hints.

"Naturally, I was glad to ship in this respect. Pennock's average is 2.56.

Braxton is the third Washington player to be outstanding in the official figures thus far released. In addition to the Nats' southpaw ace being the most effective pitcher "Goose" Goslim won the batting crown, while Buddy Myer, recently obtained in the trade with the Red Sox, showed the way in base stealing. Moreover, as a team the Nats led all other competitors in fielding.

Nats led all other competitors in flexing.

Braxton's history in the major leagues is unusual. While with the Yankees Manager Miller Huggins took one look at him and decided that he did not have the strength to take regular assignments, and he was immediately relegated to the "I'll save yuh" squad, having only fair success in New York. He reported to the Nationals in the spring of 1927 as part payment for "Dutch" Ruether, and Bucky Harris immediately drew the same conclusion as Huggins, and Braxton confined practically all of his efforts to relief work for two seasons.

When Harris found himself short-handed in pitchers last season, Braxton was given a chance and he has taken his regular turn ever since. In the 38 games in which he participated in 1928, Braxton pitched 218 innings, granted 78 runs, of which only 61 were earned.

His offerings were knicked for 177 hits, he issued 44 bases on balls and fanned 94. He won 13 games and lost Pennock took part in 28 games faults and in suggesting beneficial changes in style."

This will carry Cobb along until the season starts and he then, according to Howley, plans to move to some American League City, probably Philadelphia, during the baseball season. It is Ty's idea to take in all big league games and, as the season nears an end and the probable winner becomes apparent, to follow that team around the circuit until the schedule is completed.

Flu Forces G. U. Prep to Postpone Game With Central.

A LTHOUGH their upper-classmen failed in their attempt to win at basket ball last night, the Catholic University Freshmen showed just how it was done by defeating the strong Eastern High School Quintet last night, 28 to 24, in the Brookland gymnasium. The game was most interesting, with the result in doubt until the final whistle. The Cardinal Yearlings were forced at all times.

Payne, Oliver and Tibbetts were their chief scorers; in fact, having the greatest to do with the victory, while Cappelli and Shapiro wer the outstanding players for Eastern, who continually inserted baskets and free tosses to keep the fans on edge.

Basket ball at Georgetown Pren School has encountered a lull until January 6 as a result of the holiday recess which necessitated a postponement of the scheduled game with Central High School yesterday.

School was closed down at Garrett Park four days early to forestall a threatened influenza epidemic and interfered seriously with Coach Brooks' training plans.

Scoring almost at will, the Western High School Quintet ran up an easy 61 to 23 victory against the George Mason High School Five of Alexandria, yesterday in the Western

G. U. QUINTET BRAXTON LED IN BUSIEST SEASON

List With More to Be Scheduled.

THE Georgetown University basket ball schedule, as yet incomplete, shows that the Hilltop Quintet will be busy almost to the beginning of spring. The list was made public yesterday by Director of Athletcs Louis Little before his departure for New Orleans, where he will attend the meetings of the Football Coaches Association of America and the National Collegiate Athletic 'Association Including the three games already played and the five that will be staged during the approaching holiday period, the schedule calls for a total of 24 games. During the holidays, the Hill-toppers will engage the Knights of Columbus in Brooklyn on December 27; Crescent A. C. in New York City on December 29; two opponents in the Yale tournament on January 2 and 3, and the New York A. C. on January 5.

The remainder of the schedule The remainder of the schedule is as follows: January 8, Duke University here; 11, open; 16, Fordham at New York; 18, Penn State here; 23, Johns Hopkins here; 26, Mount St. Mary's here; 30, open; February 2, open; 5, Fordham here; 8, New York University here; 12, Johns Hopkins at Baltimore; 16, West Virginia here; 20, Navy at Annapolis; 23, Temple University at Philadelphia; 27, open; March 2, open.

An effort will be made, Director Lit-tle announced, to add several more dates to the list for the first two weeks in March. If this is done, Georgetown will play through the longest basket ball schedule in its his-of the league because of his rece of 23 victories and 7 defeats, stands twelfth in earned runs scored agains him with a 3.37 average.

Up among the leaders is the Nats' veteran, "Sad Sam Jones. He took part in 30 games, whinling 17 and losing 7, and granted but 2.84 earned runs per average game. Irving Hadley, with 3.53, was the ext Washington pitcher ranked, while Marbury had a 3.86 figure.

while Marbury had a 3.86 figure.

The fielding averages, also published furnish much fodder for the fans. They show that the Nationals were the strongest defensive club in the league with a team average of .972, one point higher that the Boston Red Sox, who finished last in the league race.

Just at this time, the figures of Buddy Myer and Bob Reeves are particularly interesting, in view of the clamor made by many of the fans when Reeves figured in the trade with the Red Sox which brings Myer back here. Myer was second to Willie Kamm among the league's third basemen with a fielding mark of .969. He was in 35 double-plays. Reeves had an average of .908, next to the lowest in the list. There is no question, however, but what the added duttes of acting as assistant to Left Fielder Goslin, who was unable to throw, affected Reeves' work. Ossis Bluege, who will give way to Myer next season, was third among third basemen with a 960 rating.

Among first basemen, Joe Judge was second only to Phil Todt, of the Red Sox, who had a great year. At one stretch, he went for 97 games without making an error. His average was .997, with Judge just one point back.

Jack Haves, whom the Nats count upon as a regular at second next middle cushion guardians and second as a shortstop. His respective averages were .995 and .974. Joe Cronin was right behind Hayes, rated at .953.

Sammy West stood out among the outfielders, making but one error and accepting 223 chances. His average in 116 games was 996. The figures of the Nats' other fly hawks are Barnes, 978; Rice, 973, and Goslin, 962.

Larry Woodall, of Detroit, led the catchers with Muddy Ruel fourth. The latter fielded 989 in 101 games, only two other catchers working as often as he did. Tate's record was 985, while Kenna pulled up last with a mark of 942. Ruel led all catchers who played in 100 or more games.

Among the several pitchers with perfect fielding averages of 1.000 are San Jones and Lloyd Brown, of the Nats.

COAST GUARD AGAIN ROUTS MARINES

Invades Quantico to Win, 37-30; Lindholm Stars.

The protest on the Northern PrepPalace A. C. game of last Sunday will be heard tonight at a meeting of the managers of the two teams, officials and officers of the Capital City League at French's Sport Store, 424 Ninth street northwest, at 6 o'clock.
Protests involving the Marions and Mardfeldts will also be heard. Managers Perrone of the Palace and Lenardo of the Northerns, together with Referees Henderson, Stevens, J. Mitchell and McDonald, are to appear at the meeting with Bill Flester, director of the Capital City League.

To settle all of the disputes in the shortest order possible, only the managers of the protesting teams will be admitted to the confab.

One of the most promising games of the Washington City League will be played tomorrow night when the Y. M. C. A. five, now leading the race with three victories and no defeats, meets the Company F Team, of the Ryattaville National Guards. in the "Y" gymnasium starting at 8:30 o'clock. In a preliminary, the "Y" Independents will tackle the crack National Circles.

BOWLING SCORES

Special to The Washington Post.

Quant True, VA., Dec. 18.—As further proof of their superiority over the Marines, the Coast Guard Five, from New London, Com., invaded the local court and marched off the field with a 37-30 victory, making it two straight triumphs. Last Monday night, at Eastern High, the Coast Guardsmen won, 41-25.

The Coast Guard Team came down from New London on a rolling cutter and its victories have helped heal some of the wounds of a defeat by the crack Marine Football Team last fall.

Lindholm played the major scoring roll for the winners. He contributed when the special contributed with the contributed with

New York, Dec. 18.—Stocks today reak of week before last, but trading continued rather insignificant as judged by volume. On limited dealings, however, a flock of the leading issues registered plump gains, most of which were piled up in the final hour of the session, in which early advancer were decidedly sluggish.

Topped by net gain of 11% and 23 prints in Montgomery Ward shares and fights, respectively; of 23 points in National Tas; 12% in Wright Aero, and Am. 12 in Detroit Edison, the price averages of all groups were lifted substantially as ascores of stocks accomplished appraint and an aliasple declines on the day were widelines of the day were widelines there were special considerations to account.

Merchandising Issues in Demand.

Merchandising Issues in Demand.
Forecasts again of record-breaking holiday trade, coupled with some hasty covering, accounted for lively demand for merchandising issues generally and mail order stocks in particular. The buige in Montgomery Ward reflected a run of shorts, many stop orders being touched off on the way up.

Sears Roebuck continued its rise and finished near the day's best, 4½ points to the good. National Bellas Hess added 6% points to its spectacular ascent of Monday. Gold Dust, Associated Dry Goods, S. 5. Kreage and numerous others were boosted substantially.

numerous others were boosted substantially.

Metal stocks again were particular favorites, with International Nickel gaining 7½ net, and the coppers atimulated by fresh prongostications of a likely further advance in the price of the red metal. Oreene Cananea, with a 9-point elevation: Andes, Anaconga, Granby Consolidated—in anticipation of a dividend rate increase tomorrow—and American Smelters ran up for price improvements ranging from 2 to 5 points, but Granby backed down to close at only a fractional gain on the day.

There was a noticeable absence of selling pressure throughout the day, and, sithough the largest betterment was one of 3½ in Packard, improvement was scored in aimost every member of the group, with Chrysler up 2¾ and General Motors 1½.

Oil Shares Are Dull.

Oils were duil, eyen Houston moving within a narrow range, and railway shares also were rather quiet, aside from a further upshoot of 6 points in Texas & Pacific featuring the dividend payers, and a net gain of 1½ in Chic Mil St. P & Pac. Chic Mil St. P & Pac. of Chic Mil S dead payers, and a net gain of 172 the M, K. & T., outstanding among the more speculative rails.

The fresh rise predicted for U. S. Industrial Alcohol got under way with a climb to above 130 and the stock closed near the top, up 3½ net.

Among others prominent in the upswing were Columbia Carbon, up 5½ net: DuPont, 7½; A. M. Byers, 3; Bush Terminal, 2½; Western Union, 5½; Adolf Gobel, 5½; McCall Corporation, 5; Midland Steel Products preferred, 5; I. R. FOREIGN LIST IRREGULAR

New York, Dec. 18 (A.P.) .- Trading was light in the bond market today, total sales falling below $8,000,000 Prices firmed after early weakness, reflecting the improvement late in the day on the stock market. Time money held around the same high levels, with some 30-day loans reported outside at some 30-day loans reported outside at 8½ per cent. Convertibles attracted most of the buying, with the wider gains in the copper and utility issues. Andes Copper 7s made the widest gain of the day, 9 points. Anaconda Copper 7s moved up about 4 points. Kayser & Co. 5½s, Barnsdall 6s, several of the sugar issues and a few other favorites, among the speculative and convertible issues showed gains running as high as 2½ points. Public Service of New Jersey 4½s, with a gain of more than 2 points, led the utilities to higher ground. International Telephone & Telegraph convertible 4½s reached a new peak at 111¼, but eased of later, closing with only a fractional off later, closing with only a fractional

More Precious than Jewels

Those who want their Christmas gifts to be lasting evidences of their kindly thoughts are wont to give diamonds, pearls and other precious gems.

But we may suggest a gift as lasting, which, at the same time will bring memories of the giver twice a year. Many of our clients give one or more of our First Mortgage Notes to those whom they hold dear, for this gift is lasting, stable, and twice a year brings an emissary, in the form of an interest check, to renew the greetings of Christmas.

And the fact that these notes can be purchased in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000 makes them available for any purse. They are here, now, awaiting you.

GOLD SUPPLY LINKED WITH INTEREST CUT

Lower Rates Await Further Imports of Metal, Bond Club Is Told.

STOCK TRADING EXPANDS

By ROBRT C. ALBRIGHT.

Any decided decline of interest rates must await further gold imports, a business recession, or both, Dr. David Friday, director of the National Bu-reau of Economic Research and a mem-ber of the Investment Research Corporation, declared yesterday in an address before the Bond Club of Washporation, declared yesterday, in an address before the Bond Club of Washington at its second luncheon-forum in the Carlton Hotel.

There probably will be no marked tightening in rates, but they certainly will not ease, Dr. David told the club members. Gold imports have ceased for the time being, and the currency needs for the largest holiday trade in history will force banks to increase their rediscounts some $300,000,000 in the next four weeks, he stated in support of this. He pointed out that brokers' loans are again rising.

"After the turn of the year the return flow of currency will reduce the rediscounts to less than $1,000,000,000 again, and there is evidence that borrowings of that amount at the Reserve banks will be regarded as normal until we get a return flow of gold, the economist said. "This will give us some easing of money."

Dr. Friday declared the prospects for gold imports in 1929 are favorable. There is considerable excess gold in the financial institutions of the world, he said, especially in Germany, Spain and the Argentine. He said the world is producing gold, which flows into monetary uses at the rate of $200,000,000 processed the country which would logically get this, as it is the Only nation with enough to be able to absorb superfluous gold.

would logically get this, as it is the only nation with enough to be able to absorb superfluous gold.

Year Disappointing to Bond Men.

"The year 1928 has been a disappointing one for the bond man." Dr Friday told the club. "It began with the Federal Reserve rediscount rates at 3½ per cent and call loans at less than 4½ per cent. By July the rediscount rate had risen to 5 per cent and call loans had resched a high point of 10 per cent. Since that time call money has eased off somewhat, but 'the rediscount rate remains the same.

"This situation in the money markets has exerted an impressive effect upon bond prices. When the rediscount rate for several Federal Reserve Banks was raised to 4 per cent at the beginning of February, bonds fell about 1 point They rallied quickly, and went to a new level of prices in April and May. Then the second increase in redicount rates came and bonds began a serious decline, which continued practically without abatement until the middle of August, which continued practically without abatement until the middle of August, which continued practically without abatement until the middle of August, which continued practically without abatement until the middle of August, which continued practically without abatement until the middle of August, which level about 2 points above their lowest prices."

Analyzing the forces which produced these movements in interest rates and bond prices. Dr. Friday said the cause which led to the rise in rates on broker loans was the large outflow of gold and the fact that this coincided with an expansion in brokers' loans, which alarmed bankers, certain senators and some Federal Reserve officials. The outflow of gold brought about an increased use of Federal Reserve officials led to a Reserve policy which made member bankers restive under the constantly rising volume of Reserve Bank credit and the disproportionate rise in rediscounts, which these member bankers restive under the constantly rising volume of Reserve Bank credit and the disproportionate rise

To Study Christmas Savings Clubs. With increased enrollments in Christmas savings clubs reported by virtually all of the banks cooperating in the Christmas savings movement. President Robert V. Fleming, of the District of Columbia Bankers Association, has appointed a special committee "to look into all phases of the Christmas savings clubs and report to the association."

mgs cluss and report to the association."

The committee, of which Wilmer J. Waller. Federal-American National Bank, is chairman, will take over in a measure functions which have formerly fallen to the overloaded advertising committee. Eliot H. Thomson, Washington Loan & Trust Co., chairman of the latter group, was named a member of the special committee, as were Lanier P. McLachlen McLachlen Banking Corporation, and Edward J. McQuade, Liberty National Bank.

New Courses to Be Added.

New Courses to Be Added.

A. E. Henze, chairman of the educational committee of the Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, yesterday announced that two new courses will be added to the curriculum of the institute when the second semester gets under way late next month. There will be a course in business forecasting, under Walter H. Dunlap, and another in analysis of financial statements, under William Gordon Buchanan.

Bank Women's Club Entertains. The Bank Women's Club of Washington last night entertained with its annual Christmas party at the Huguenot.
Pollowing dinner there was a Christmas program arranged by Miss Louise Mitchell, which included recitations by Miss Grace M. Bromley. The party coincided with the birthday of Miss Ellen

FOUR BOOTLEGGERS SERVED ON JURY, GIBSON INFORMED

Citizens Service Association Aid Tells House Body Policeman Saw Them.

JURY SYSTEM CHANGE AND STRICT LAW URGED

District Committee Leader Says He Will Call Mrs. Willebrandt to Advise.

Bootleggers have been known to rve on juries in liquor trials here, T. Jarvis, secretary of the Citizens Service Association, told the Gibson subcommittee of the House District committee yesterday. He urged a change in the jury system. Jarvis also declared that the courts of the District "lean backward to help the bootleggers."

Representative Gibson (Republican) of Vermont, chairman of the subcommittee, announced the hearing was the last one that would be held in connection with the proposal to enact a new prohibition enforcement act for the District of Columbia.

However, Gibson said, Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant to the Attorney General, will be asked to appear and advise the subcommittee as to the constitutionality of the proposed liquor law.

Gibson also revealed that the sub-committee has been conducting an in-vestigation of the District building in-spector's office, and that a report would be made public in a few days. The in-vestigation was ordered after the re-ceipt of complaints that the build-ing inspectors were using "sinched ing inspectors were using "slipshod

Would Increase Penalties.

Jarvis, who is also an assistant leg loon League, declared that he was "dis-gusted" with the way liquor cases are handled in the courts here? While he was sitting in court one day, he said, a policeman next to him pointed to the jury and exclaimed:

"There are four bootleggers on that jury!"

A second attempt to convict William Deegan, Instituted States attorney, who prosecutes liquor law violators, is not inquisitive enough in questioning candidates for the jury about their occupation and their records. He advocated more care in weeding wets out of the juries and recommended that a good jury be kept on the job for a month instead of two weeks, as at present

He also advocated that the selling, ransportation, manufacture and possession of liquor be made a felony; that all police officers be given authority to make arrests for violation of the Volstead act; that Maj. Hesse be given a special appropriation to hire ndercover men, and that one court be assigned to handle nothing but liquor charges as a result of the raid of the Ambassador Oyster House, 2106 Eighteenth street northwest, last August 3, was begun before Judge Gus A. Schuldt and a jury jn Police Court vesterday when the four men went of the jurors, was reported to have gone on a party and was absent from tury duty for several days. Richardson was arrested and sentenced to serve two days in the District Jail for contempt of court.

Testimony of the four prohibition agents was taken before the trial was adjourned until today. District Prohibition Administrator John J. Quinn, who was accused by Earl E. Rickert, spectator at the raid, of assault, defined to Harry T. Whelan and Denny Hughes, defense attorneys, that he had seen Rickert at the raid.

Justice Divorce Suits End in Alimony Ruling

Two divorce suits between Frank N. Justice, automobile dealer, and his wife, Mrs. Helen E. Justice, were dismissed in the District Supreme Court yesterday by decrees providing for adjustment of property rights of the principals. On January 3, 1927, Mrs. Justice. who resides at 806 G street northeast, filled suit for limited divorce on charges of cruelty and neglect and on May 12 instituted a suit for absolute divorce, naming a corespondent and charging misconduct.

The decrees, upon which the suits were dismissed, provided that Justice make payments of accrued alimony to his wife in lieu of a dower. The decrees on behalf of the wife were presented by her counsel, Raymond Nudecker, while P. H. Marshall appeared as counsel for Justice.

Autoist Is Fined $300 For Having Dead Tags

Judge John P. McMahon imposed the maximum penalty for driving an automobile with dead tags upon Edward Marks in Traffic Court yesterday when he decreed Marks should pay a fine of $300.

The defendant was arrested a few days ago by members of Sergt. George Little's liquor squad. Testimony revealed that the tags on Marks' car were issued for another person and that he also had two other sets of tags, both of which were listed to other persons, in the car. Sergt. Little said Marks' automobile was searched for liquor at the time of the arrest but none was found.

Ants Burrow Into Cast About Patient's Ankle

A burning sensation about his left ankle, injured in a fall, described by Capt. Rene E. Fraile, Army officer, a patient at Walter Reed Hospital, resulted in an investigation revealing that ants, crawling up his bed's legs, had burrowed under the plaster cast about his ankle, causing the feeling

As a result, a new cast was placed about his ankle and the legs of his bed were put in liquid to prevent ants from crawling up.

Peggy Lansdowne Gets Back "Barney," Lost Dog

Santa Claus, in the guise of a man calling himself Tommy Traynor, yesterday prepared a merry Christmas for little Peggy Lansdowne, daughter of the late Commander Lansdowne, killed in the Shenandoah disaster.

According to Mrs. John Caswell, of 2162 Florida avenue northwest, mother of Peggy, the man who brought the dog "Barney" home after he had been missing since Sunday was Mr. Traynor, but the child, who has been pining for her lost pet, is firmly convinced that he was either Santa Claus or one of his assistants. Return of the dog followed a telephone to the Caswell home. Monday, in which a man said he knew where the dog was and would see that he was returned.

Plant, in Full Blast-Building Deserted.

Within a stone's throw of the District prohibition headquarters, police yesterday uncovered one of the largest illicit liquor distilleries ever found in the Capital at 471 Missouri avenue northwest.

The plant filled the entire second floor of the building and was estimated by police to have cost $10,000 to install. Discovery of the distillery was made by Sergt. George Little, Policemen George C Deyo and Leo Murray and Prohibition Agent Theodore Montgomery while on a tour of inspection in the neighborhood No one was in the building when the police entered.

GRANT'S INAUGURAL ASSISTANTS NAMED: EVENT TOPIC TODAY

Prescott and Delano Made Vice Chairmen of General Committee for Plans.

OUTLINE AND REPORTS EXPECTED AT MEETING

Headquarters Bustles With Activity; Eight More Appointed as Aids.

Samuel J. Prescott, contractor and builder, and Frederic A. Delano, consulting engineer, have accepted apcointment as vice chairmen of the Herbert Hoover general inaugural committee. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday afternoon by Lieut Col. U. S. Grant, 3d, U. S. Al, chairman

Col. U. S. Grant, 3d, U. S. Al, chairman of the committee.

Appointment of Prescott and Delano practically completes the organization of the committee leaders, chairmen of all the major subcommittees having previously been appointed. Prescott and Delano have not been definitely assigned to specific tasks except as general aids, but it is likely that they will supervise construction of platforms, stands and other work requiring construction and engineering knowledge.

Legal Question Debated.

Whether the building came within the scope of the fire-escape law seems to be a subject of debate. Fire Department officials insisting that it did. They found, they said, several apartments occupied in the building, which was Joined with 200 Indiana avenue northwest, including cooking ranges. Oehmann, however, apparently is not so certain, because the fire-escape law does not apply to rooming houses. Oehmann said that he wanted to confer with William W. District Chiefs Complete Plan for Acquisition of Two Squares Near Court.

CONGRESSIONAL ACTION AT THIS SESSION IS HOPE

Equally Divided Responsibility for Financing Is Provided in Recommendation.

Immediate development of the District municipal center is provided for in a bill sent to the Budget Bureau by the District Commissioners yesterday. The bill provides for the acquirement of the two squares between Third and Sixth streets, along Indiana and Louisiana avenues, fronting on Judiciary Square.

The municipal center project calls also for the acquisition and development of the two squares adjoining to the south, so that the center will run from Judiciary Square to Pennsylvania avenue, but the two southern squares are to be acquired later under the plan of the commissioners.

Cost of the acquisition and development of the two squares, 490 and 533, will be divided, under the wording of the commissioners measure, equally between the District and Federal, governments.
